Wood Stone Hires Melissa Enge as Regional Sales Manager, EMEA

Move will help company bring innovative products and industry-leading customer support to international markets.

Bellingham, WA, June 15, 2020 - Wood Stone Corporation, a leading manufacturer of stone hearth and specialty commercial cooking equipment, has hired Melissa Enge as Regional Sales Manager for the European, Middle Eastern and African markets.

Melissa is an international account executive with over 20 years' experience in the Foodservice industry, specializing in QSR (Quick Service Restaurant) customers and B2B distributors. She joins Wood Stone with an extensive background in international business development, global supply chain, and new product development.

During her time at Franke Foodservice, Melissa managed major rollouts and product launches for McDonald's as an Account Manager. And in the wake of losing a high-coveted supplier prize, Franke dispatched Melissa to Europe to leverage her interpersonal skills to improve their relationship with their largest customer, quickly establishing herself as a valuable customer resource and go-to person for problem-solving.

Michael Quinn, Director of Global sales said, "We're very excited to have Melissa on board. Her depth of experience, knowledge and capabilities will complement our growing team and initiatives to support international growth."

"I look forward to helping bolster Wood Stone's efforts to enter new and emerging markets around the globe," Melissa said.

Melissa possesses a love of travel, international cultures, and continuous learning. She has satiated her Wanderlust by living and working overseas in Japan and Venezuela and currently resides with her husband in Switzerland.
